Art Unit: 1657

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 16, 2007 has been entered.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4 and 19 are pending in this application.

3. Claims 1, 3, 4 and 19 stand rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 10 of U.S. Patent No. US 6,649,380.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are within the scope of the patented claim, which contains the monomeric unit as claimed.

Applicant has argued the following:

"The Yano '380 patent discloses the invention in which a compound having a hydroxyl group is added as a molecular weight controlling agent at polymer formation in order to control the molecular weight of polyhydroxyalkanoate (PHA). When such a molecular weight controlling agent is used, one end of the polymer becomes PHA as set forth and described in claim 10 of the Yano '380 patent."

Art Unit: 1657

Claim 10 of the patent discloses a PHA within the scope of the claimed inventions since there is a 3-hydroxy-w-cyclohexylalkanoic acid unit represented by formula 17 which includes when k=0. The claim is drawn to PHA which includes polymers containing the unit as claimed when k=0. With respect to the double patenting based on claim 10, in view of the specification as disclosed in Example 10 which teaches the polymerization of the monomer whereby k=1 which renders prima facie obvious claim 10 that the monomeric unit in combination with the monomeric unit disclosed in formula (16) which requires a phenyl atom. Claim 10 teaches copolymeric units which contain the instantly claimed unit for the PHA.

"Therefore, R17 is as illustrated in claim 10 of the Yano '380 patent, i.e., a monomeric unit. In other words, there is no teaching or example in the Yano '380 patent where a plurality of the monomeric chemical formula (17) in claim 10 of the Yano '380 patent is continuously linked together to form a polymeric moiety."

"In contrast, PHA according to the present invention itself forms the repeating unit of a polymer. Therefore, claims 1, 3, 4 and 19 of the present invention, which define the repeated unit that is continuously linked together in plural are patentably distinct from claim 10 of the Yano '380 patent. In view of these arguments, applicants respectfully request withdrawal of the rejection and submit that claims 1,3, 4 and 19 are in condition for allowance."

However, this Examiner will not allow the instant claims, which do not exclude the DP of claim 10 but will withdraw the rejection of the claims drawn to homopolymers of the claimed product over the reference since there is no suggestion or motivation based on the claimed subject matter for homopolymers based on the claimed subject matter.

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422

F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. This is a RCE of applicant's application. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
